BANK OF AMERICA ROBBERY SUSPECT ARRESTED

On May 1, 2013, the Bank of America, located at 101 Windrush Lane, Bluffton, SC was robbed by a suspect claiming to have a bomb. Shortly after surveillance video photos were released to the public, the suspect was identified as David Edward Boyd of Hilton Head Island, S.C. A joint investigation was conducted by the Bluffton Police Department, Beaufort County Sheriff's Office and the FBI which resulted in Boyd's arrest this afternoon. He has been charged with Armed Robbery for the Bank of America incident in Bluffton and is facing other charges from the Beaufort County Sheriff's Office for an unrelated incident.
